

[Serial No. 09/803,941]

B/
cont

partition wall portion from the outer circumferential wall portion, and wherein a raw material for said outer circumferential wall is given in a thickness sufficient to apply a stress to the inside partition walls from the outer circumferential wall around a whole surface of the outer circumferential wall.
